

Dairy Genomics Workshops

Agenda

“Introduction to genomics of fertility”

J. Dalton and D. Moore, University of Idaho and Washington State University

“Research updates on genomics and fertility”

T. Spencer and P. Hansen, Washington State University and University of Florida

P. Pinedo and J. Santos, Texas A&M University and University of Florida

“Case studies using genomic testing in dairy cattle”

Zoetis and Neogen

“Economics of genomics”

A. DeVries and K. Kaniyamattam, University of Florida

Workshops will be held 10:00 am—2:00 pm at these locations:

★ Monday, December 1 - Jerome, Idaho

Best Western Sawtooth Inn and Suites, 2653 S. Lincoln Ave.

★ Wednesday, December 3 - Sunnyside, Washington

Snipes Mountain, 905 Yakima Valley Highway

★ Monday, December 8 - Stephenville, Texas

Texas A&M Agri-Life Research and Extension Center, 1229 N. U.S. Highway 81

★ Wednesday, December 10 - Okeechobee, Florida

Okeechobee County Extension, 458 U.S. Highway 98 North

Lunch sponsored by Zoetis and Neogen.

Who should attend? Dairy producers and managers, veterinarians, allied industry, and extension faculty. Experience with genomics is not required.

Please reply to Joe Dalton to reserve a space. jdalton@uidaho.edu or (208) 454-7633

These workshops are supported by USDA NIFA AFRI grant No. 2013-68004-20365